Break the illusion

Go talk to stalkers with positive attitude, hug, praise God, share gospel, smile, laugh, be helpful.. by doing this you break the negative illusion immediately and they have to change the stalker to another next time, then you just repeat it.

If your enemy is hungry, feed him; if he is thirsty, give him something to drink. In doing this, you will heap burning coals on his head (Romans 12:20).

Organized stalking

Gang stalking is also known as "organized stalking". The crime is not related to a street gang; but illegally surveillance and multiple actors working together (called "perps, perpetrators" or "brown-nosers"), whose aim is to disturb the target persons and make them destroy themselves. Stalking is also mentioned as punishable in the Finnish Criminal Code.

Most of the stalkers are not interested in truth, but money, lies and they hate all positivity, joy, peace and especially God's children. Persecution has also often happened because of one's own narcissism or honor, and/or by silencing potential whistle blowers.

Organized acts of persecution are usually united by those who administer them a private security intelligence service (e.g. Supo Finland), or they are corrupt members, or former members of the law enforcement community/criminal informants.

Their task is to silence the dissidents, truth seekers, who are against the system, who defends human rights, are animal lovers, help the poor, follow Jesus, shines the light from their souls..

A history of organized persecution

Persecution tactics were widely used in the Communist East.

The German Stasi (state police) as a means of maintaining political control over its citizens. In the United States, the tactic was famously used by the FBI during its secret illegal counterintelligence program ("Cointelpro").

1956 until civilian activists exposed the program in 1971. The program was mainly aimed at political activists and also at innocent people, because their spiritual condition and saved soul was perceived as a threat to the devil's system.

Who or what entity is behind persecution?

Satanic societies/fraternities/orders, religious cults and destructive "New Age" groups, corporations, government organizations (example Finnish Supo, police, military), concerned satanic community groups/watchdog groups, criminal organizations etc. Ultimately the source of everything is the malevolent/demonic principalities. They are the real heads of state and business in this sick world. Eric Karlstrom and Kev Baker and Anthony Patch reveal that there are four groups, who are wiping away millions of people through persecution. They are Operation Paperclip, The Nazi SS, the CIA, the NSA, the Defense Intelligence Agency and the Department of Defense.
